OBJECTIVE & ACTIVITIES

ANCHISE aims to build a global and comprehensive answer to meet the challenges of an effective protection of cultural heritage in Europe, for both antiquities and modern cultural goods, in order to provide sustainable and replicable solutions.

APPROACH

The project will adopt a bottom-up process to build a global and comprehensive approach, and develop a set of tools with user-centric methods in order to help bridge the gap between technologies and the market (looting detection, detection of neglected or abandoned heritage, object marking, object identification and traceability).
